

Celebrating Father's Day

Quiz Questions

1. Father's Day was nationally acknowledged 58 years before Mother's Day.
 - a. True
 - b. False
2. Having an involved father or father figure helps a child's _____.
 - a. knowledge of who can be considered a trusted adult
 - b. sense of self and safety within the world around them
 - c. cognitive, emotional, and social development
3. A father's _____ and _____ can be as crucial as a mother's.
 - a. knowledge and love
 - b. acceptance and concern
 - c. presence and involvement
4. Because of their child's background, adoptive fathers might have to do what kind of work?
 - a. reparative
 - b. part-time
 - c. singular
5. Which two qualities are essential for successful parenting?
 - a. encouraging the idea of a "typical" family
 - b. recognizing each child is a unique individual
 - c. supporting the child's birth family relationship
 - d. understanding that parenting is not "one size fits all"
6. _____ can be a slow process.
 - a. Establishing trust between foster/adoptive children and fathers
 - b. Building a relationship with your child's biological family
 - c. Creating family Father's Day rituals with a new child
7. Knowing their child might be attached to another father can be difficult for adoptive/foster fathers.
 - a. True
 - b. False
8. Which statement can help you begin a constructive conversation about your child's birth father?
 - a. "I am the only person you need to worry about on Father's Day."
 - b. "I wonder where your birth father might be on this Father's Day."
 - c. "I don't think your birth father expects you to call on Father's Day."
9. If the child has a relationship with their birth father, it can be both _____ and _____ for the child to connect with them on Father's Day.
 - a. difficult and painful
 - b. loving and balancing
 - c. healthy and validating
10. Fostering and adoption can negate the birth father's role as a father.
 - a. True

b. False

Answer Key

1. Father's Day was nationally acknowledged 58 years before Mother's Day.
 - a. True
 - b. False
2. Having an involved father or father figure helps a child's _____.
 - a. knowledge of who can be considered a trusted adult
 - b. sense of self and safety within the world around them
 - c. cognitive, emotional, and social development
3. A father's _____ and _____ can be as crucial as a mother's.
 - a. knowledge and love
 - b. acceptance and concern
 - c. presence and involvement
4. Because of their child's background, adoptive fathers might have to do what kind of work?
 - a. reparative
 - b. part-time
 - c. singular
5. Which two qualities are essential for successful parenting?
 - a. encouraging the idea of a "typical" family
 - b. recognizing each child is a unique individual
 - c. supporting the child's birth family relationship
 - d. understanding that parenting is not "one size fits all"
6. _____ can be a slow process.
 - a. Establishing trust between foster/adoptive children and fathers
 - b. Building a relationship with your child's biological family
 - c. Creating family Father's Day rituals with a new child
7. Knowing their child might be attached to another father can be difficult for adoptive/foster fathers.
 - a. True
 - b. False
8. Which statement can help you begin a constructive conversation about your child's birth father?
 - a. "I am the only person you need to worry about on Father's Day."
 - b. "I wonder where your birth father might be on this Father's Day."
 - c. "I don't think your birth father expects you to call on Father's Day."
9. If the child has a relationship with their birth father, it can be both _____ and _____ for the child to connect with them on Father's Day.
 - a. difficult and painful
 - b. loving and balancing
 - c. healthy and validating
10. Fostering and adoption can negate the birth father's role as a father.

- a. True
- b. False